ABDULRAHMAN AWAD

Front end developer

I hold a university degree in the field of computer information systems. I have a passion for information technology and computer systems, and I strive to achieve success and distinction in this field. I have a strong background in software development and design, and possess analytical and strategic skills that enable me to think critically and work on complex problems

Contact

Phone +972592044867

Email
abdlhmnwd@gmail.com

Address
School Street., Khan Younes

Education

2017 - 2022
70%
Al-Quds Open University

Expertise

- html/css/js
- word press
- web developer
- web designe

Language

English

Arabice

Experience

2019 - 2022

self education l School Street., Khan Younes
word press

It specializes in complete front-end development of websites and applications.
It uses basic web languages such as HTML to build the structure of pages, CSS to format and make them attractive, and JavaScript to add interactivity and dynamic functionality.
She has experience designing and implementing custom templates for WordPress websites, adding elements and features that meet customer needs and improve user experience.
Your skills in developing user interfaces and designing templates may be an added value to companies and website owners looking for a great user experience and innovative design.

2017 - 2019

self education l School Street., Khan Younes
web Developer

As a front-end developer, you specialize in improving the design and user experience of websites and apps.HTML is used to structure and format pages using CSS to make them attractive and have a distinctive look.Adds and improves interactions and dynamic functionality using JavaScript to achieve a more interactive and smooth user experience.Modifies and updates existing user interfaces to effectively meet project and user requirements.You may be responsible for improving the performance and responsiveness of front-ends to achieve the best user experience.

2015 - 2017

self education l School Street., Khan Younes
web Designe

HTML (Hypertext Markup Language) is used to build the structure of pages and define various elements such as text, images, and links.
CSS (Nested Style Sheets) is used to format pages and specify appearance and design, such as colors, fonts, and margins.
JavaScript is used to add interactivity and dynamic functionality to a site, such as form validation, input validation, and dynamic content loading.

Reference

Name Surname
free lancer

Phone: +97259204867
Email : abdlhmnwd@gmail.com
git Hub : AbdulRahman1331441991881